

HEARING OF DIRECT TESTIMONY IN DIEHL CASE BEGINS TODAY

Opening Statements Made This Morning by Counsel for State and the Defense

AN HOUR'S DELAY IN THE OPENING OF COURT

Court Orders All Witnesses to be in Court House When Called---Ex-Coroner Marriott Was First Witness Called---Case Progresses Rapidly.

It was 10 minutes until 10 o'clock Thursday morning when Bailiff Louis Legge opened common pleas court and the Walter Diehl murder case was in reality begun, by the opening statement of the state, made by Prosecuting Attorney Phil B. Smythe.

The delay was caused by the absence of the jury, which, in charge of Sheriff Slabaugh, went to view the places which have had some connection with the riots and lynching of July 8, 1910.

The witnesses, especially for the state, had all been subpoenaed, and the most of them were in the clerk's office about 9 o'clock to claim their attendance. Prosecutor Smythe gave evidence that in this trial he intends to have the state witnesses present when called, when he said to Clerk Larson, who asked him before court convened if he wished a certain witness notified by telephone to be present this morning.

"Yes, tell him to be here," replied Mr. Smythe. "I may want to use him first, and if he isn't here, I'll have the sheriff sent after him."

The attorneys for the defense are also determined to have their witnesses present when called, and in this laudable purpose both sides are supported by the inclination and authority of Judge Mansfield.

Mr. Smythe began his opening statement to the jury by reading the indictment, which charged Diehl with deliberate, malicious and premeditated murder of Carl Etherington on July 8, 1910. Following this, he said:

"Gentlemen, this indictment that I have read to you, in technical terms describes a murder in the first degree, the highest crime known to the law of Ohio. It includes both manslaughter and murder in the second degree.

"We expect to show that the murder of Carl Etherington was one of brutality and every element of atrocity. The proof will show that Etherington was trying his best to get out of town, when he was seized and beaten almost to an unrecognizable pulp; that he was finally landed in the county jail, and that a crowd began congregating about the county jail.

"The proof will show that prior to the actual lynching of Etherington, this defendant was seen coming from his house, armed with a hammer, and announced his intention of joining those who were attempting to enter the jail and lynch Etherington.

"The proof will show that the mayor of the city mounted a stone and urged the crowd to disperse, and that this defendant urged and encouraged the crowd by yelling: 'Kill the s--- b---!'

"The proof will show that the mob with hammers, sledges and other weapons, battered down the jail doors and gained the cell of Etherington; that Diehl assisted in this. The proof will also show that Etherington was dragged from his cell and through the corridors of the jail and that Diehl also assisted in this. The proof will show that he was dragged through the streets to a telegraph pole, hanged and murdered, that on this trip to his death Etherington was repeatedly assaulted and struck over the head with a hammer in the hands of Walter Diehl; that at the pole Etherington was again struck with a hammer and that Walter Diehl wielded the weapon.

"The proof will show that after the hanging of Etherington, Diehl went to the vicinity of his home, known as 'Texas,' and there bragged about having helped to break into the jail and the part he took in the killing of Etherington.

"Gentlemen, the state's case will be such that it will show you that this defendant is guilty of murder, and of no other crime."

Mr. S. L. James, senior counsel for the defendant, stated his case to the jury. He said:

"Gentlemen, the defendant denies the charges made in the indictment read to you by the prosecutor, which indictment, the court will instruct you, is not to be considered by you as evidence.

"We say to you that the evidence will not show that Walter Diehl had anything to do with the breaking in of the county jail, nor did he upon that night assault Carl Etherington with a hammer or any other instrument.

"We say to you that the evidence will show that Walter Diehl has lived in Newark about 25 years, a large part of which time he was employed at the B. & O. shops; that he has borne a good reputation and has never before been in any serious trouble.

"In conclusion we say to you that the evidence will not disclose that Walter Diehl had any part whatever in causing the death of Carl Etherington, as charged by the state, and all we ask at your hands is to keep your minds clear of any prejudice, and give to this defendant a fair and impartial trial."

Sheriff Slabaugh stated to the court that all witnesses had been subpoenaed except two or three, one of whom could not be located.

The witnesses for the state were called and sworn in by Clerk Larson.

Among the witnesses subpoenaed by the state are Joe Bush and Quincy Sulley, who have heretofore pleaded guilty of manslaughter and are now serving an indeterminate sentence in the Mansfield reformatory. Both are in the county jail in charge of Sheriff Slabaugh.

Mr. James asked an order for a separation of the states witnesses, and that those examined should be kept away from the others. Judge Mansfield issued the order as requested.

The first witness called was

Examined by Mr. Smythe: "Was coroner of Licking county July 8th, 1910, between 10 and 11 o'clock that night was called to the southeast corner of the square; found the body of man; at that time did not notice the neck particularly; directed autopsy on body at McGonagle's morgue, performed by Drs. Shiner, Barnes and Wiyarich; noticed a blue-black line about the neck, after removing a piece of rope which was about the neck; there were a number of contusions and bruises about the head, evidently made by some iron instrument; the man had died from strangulation, produced by a rope around the neck."

Cross-examined by Mr. James, Dr. Marriott described the wounds on Etherington's head and face more minutely, and stated that none of these cuts or bruises was serious enough to cause death, which, from the rope mark, the condition of the face and tongue, the highly distorted and congested features, was caused by strangulation, in his opinion.

Who was deputy coroner July 8th, 1910, was examined by Mr. Miller. He had assisted in the autopsy on the body of Etherington and described the wounds, corroborating the testimony of Dr. Marriott, and gave his opinion that death was caused by strangulation.

Cross-examined by Mr. James, the witness stated that he went to St. Louisville in Dr. Shiner's automobile (Continued on page 2, col. 3.)

FIRE DAMAGES STOCK YARDS

Chicago, Oct. 18.—A fire which early today threatened to entirely destroy one of the city's big stock yard plants did damage estimated at $100,000 and was brought under control only after a general alarm had been sounded. A number of firemen had narrow escapes by being confined on the second floor of the glue house where most of the damage was done.

ATTORNEYS IN M'NAMARA CASE CLOSELY EXAMINE THE MEN CALLED FOR THE JURY

THE LOS ANGELES COURTHOUSE

PHOTOS COPYRIGHT 1911 BY AMERICAN PRESS ASSOCIATION

Los Angeles, Cal., Oct. 18.—It is believed that it will take several days possibly weeks, to select a jury to try James B. McNamara. Every man who is called as a talesman is asked concerning his relations with labor unions, his experience with dynamite in his business career. Attorneys Darrow, Scott and Davis, who represent McNamara, all take part in the examinations of talesmen, and they frequently confer before passing a man or rejecting him. McNamara also watches proceedings closely and frequently consults with his counsel.

RAIN AGAIN CAUSES POSTPONEMENT OF THE WORLD SERIES GAME

Philadelphia, Oct. 19.—Today's game between the Athletics and the Giants was called off shortly after 10 o'clock, the water soaked condition of the field making play impossible. A slight rain too, was falling at that hour.

The four umpires went to the park early today and made a thorough investigation of the field. Upon their report to the national commission that play was impossible the official announcement was made. The weather bureau forecasts fair weather for tonight and tomorrow.

Athletic players and rooters are disgusted over the failure of the weather to permit play. Each day's delay means an increase in the Giant's strength and a corresponding decrease in the Athletics' chances.

Upon Mathewson and Marquard McGraw had pinned his faith and the two days' let up in play will give both a chance to get into perfect physical condition. On the other hand Mack has Bender, Plank and Coombs, who are able to take turn about in the pitching with no need of rest.

WICKERSHAM MAY SUCCEED JUSTICE HARLAN

Butte, Mont., Oct. 19.—George W. Wickersham, attorney general of the United States today loomed up as the most promising candidate for justice of the United States Supreme court to succeed the late Justice Harlan. Out of a long list of possibilities which President Taft took up for consideration today Wickersham seemed to be the favorite. While the chief executive refused to discuss the matter for publication it was learned that the possibility of the appointment of a progressive jurist to succeed Harlan is very remote. Secretary of the Interior Fisher is said to be the only progressive in the list of those considered who has any chance whatever of appointment. Scores of suggestions have been sent to the President, but he has steadfastly refused to commit himself until after his return to the White House which will be November 15.

FOUR BUSHELS OF CHESTNUTS IN TWO DAYS

Robert Fulton, who is one of the oldest and best known residents of Licking county, has proven himself to be the champion chestnut gatherer so far reported this season. Mr. Fulton, who is seventy-two years old, resides in the West Hills, and he has quite a thrifty chestnut orchard on his place. In two days he gathered four and a half bushels of chestnuts, which he brought to town Thursday and sold to Mr. Joseph Georgetti, the Third Street fruit dealer. Mr. Georgetti says they are the finest chestnuts he has purchased this season.

SIX YEARS IN U. S. PRISON FOR THEFT OF $1500

Cincinnati, Oct. 19.—Wallace Davis, self-confessed defaulting paying teller of the Fifth Third National bank was sentenced to six years in the Leavenworth Federal prison today by United States District Judge Sater. Davis' wife who was present in the court room collapsed in her husband's arms when the sentence was read. In a written confession

Davis admitted that he took $1500 of the bank's funds.

SCOTT REPRIEVED AGAIN.

Columbus, Oct. 19.—For the fourth time in six months Steve Scott, negro, sentenced to die in the electric chair tonight for the murder of an Italian laborer in Miami county in 1910, has been reprieved. Governor Harmon telegraphed the reprieve from Raleigh N. C., and extended Scott's lease on life until Nov. 3.

REVOLUTION IS GAINING GROUND

Shanghai, Oct. 19.—The Chinese rebellion is gaining ground rapidly according to today's advices received from the revolutionary district. Telegram communication with Hankow collapsed shortly after midnight and the wildest rumors are current. It is said that every woman and child of the Manchuria race at Wuchang have been butchered.

European refugees from Hankow, of whom 16 steamship loads arrived here today, described frightful scenes along the river above Hankow. The Chinese, they say, are hunting down their Manchurian enemies like wild animals and killing them by the hundreds. They believe the rebellion has reached such proportions that it can never be quelled.

Shanghai itself is a hot bed of revolution and reports of plots and counter plots are numberless.

FIRING CONTINUES.

Hankow, China, Oct. 19.—Desultory firing continued today between the Loyalist forces here and scouting parties from the rebel army now entrenched at Wuchang. Another general attack of the rebels was momentarily expected. The rebels were not overwhelmingly defeated yesterday as was represented by one Loyalist, but had the best of the battle until their ammunition gave out. With fresh supplies from the magazines at Wuchang it is expected they will resume the aggressive before the imperial forces can be re-inforced.

NO BALM FOR "RUZZIELAMB"

New York, Oct. 19.—"Ruzzielamb" Russell G. Griswold will get no heart balm from Miss Helen Woodruff Smith of Stamford, Conn., the jury today returning a verdict for the defendant. Griswold demanded $50,000 for alleged breach of promise. Neither of the principals were in the court room at the time of the decision. Failure to give Ruzzielamb at least some trifling comfort for the pangs of his broken heart came as a distinct surprise. The trial which lasted three days was filled with interesting moments and the case given much notoriety.

PREACHER CONNECTED WITH CASE

Beautiful Girl Student Dies in Y. W. C. A. Building at Boston

CYANIDE CAUSED DEATH

Pastor Said to Have Jilted Girl for Heiress Who Will Inherit $700,000.

Boston, Mass., Oct. 19.—Efforts of the police to find evidence which would justify them in arresting mar suspected of having sent to or given cyanide of potassium to Miss Avel Linnell, beautiful New England Conservatory student, who died at the Young Women's Christian Association, had not been successful up to today, but Chief of Police Dugan is confident there will be important developments within a few hours.

In the meantime a pastor of a church at Cambridge, whom Miss Linnell believed she was to marry until she read a few minutes before she died of his engagement to a wealthy and prominent young woman in Brookline's social set, is said to be at the home of the latter. He has refused to see reporters or members of his church. It is said that he is suffering from a nervous collapse.

Chief of Police Dugan and two detectives passed several hours at the Young Women's Christian Association questioning young women there about the engagement which is reported to have existed between the preacher and Miss Linnell. What he learned he would not divulge.

"If I should obtain certain evidence I would not wait for an inquest, but would make an arrest at once," declared the chief of police tonight. "I am absolutely satisfied that the cyanide of potassium was either sent to the girl or given her by a person with whose movements we are keeping in touch."

"There is no evidence to show that she was in other than a happy frame of mind the day she took the poison."

"She did not know, I am positive, the nature of the drug she took, but was simply carrying out the instructions of the person who gave or sent her the poison."

"The person I have under suspicion cannot get away. I have attended to that. There will be an arrest within 24 hours."

William J. McLean, a brother-in-law of Miss Linnell, who lives in Brookline, said today that when the preacher in question was told by telephone of the girl's fatal illness he denied having known her.

"When Miss Linnell was found dying," he said, "officials of the Y. W. C. A. telephoned for the preacher. I am told he denied knowing her and refused to go to the Association rooms. His conduct seems strange in view of the fact that, I understand, he had been engaged to the dying girl."

McLean explained that the preacher and Miss Linnell first met at the wedding of Miss Linnell's sister three years ago.

The preacher's latest fiancée is one of the wealthiest young women in Brookline, having $700,000 in her own right, and upon the death of her father will come into several hundred thousand more.

Members of the Cambridge church, who are standing by the preacher, believe he will occupy his pulpit next Sunday. The congregation, though, has become divided and it is said that should he appear to conduct the services many would decline to remain to hear his sermon.

It is said the preacher is acting under the advice of his counsel in remaining silent.

When a member of the church tried to get in touch with the pastor he got his fiancée's mother on the telephone.

"He is ill," said she, "and no one can speak to him. That is the physician's order. He says he has nothing to say at this time."

FIRST FROST OCT. 19th 1911

H. H. Prior of Madison township, reports the first frost of the season, Oct. 19, 1911, but no damage was done to vegetation. Mr. Prior says: "This is the first year in my time that I remember the first frost to come so late in the fall."

BAPTISTS IN SESSION AT ZANESVILLE

At the Wednesday evening session of the Ohio Baptist convention, in Zanesville, Dr. Stillwell introduced Secretary Rose, of Granville, who conducted an offertory, during which $2300 was raised.

Rev. A. A. Shaw, D. D., of Cleveland, spoke on "Men and Religion." He emphasized the fact that there was a special type of religion for men. He gave a history of men's religious forward movement.

Rev. W. W. Bustard, D. D., widely known as John D. Rockefeller's pastor and preacher to the largest congregation in Cleveland, spoke on "The Church's Greatest Work." Its greatest work is to establish the kingdom of God. He gave the law of precedence, the kingdom is first. An important meeting of the Ohio Baptist Ministers' conference was held in the Congregational church at 3 p. m. Officers were elected for the coming year. Rev. J. A. Bennett, D. D., was made president, and Rev. A. S. Carman, D. D., vice president. The retreat at Granville was announced for next April, and an offering was received for the fellowship fund.

The Wednesday afternoon session began with Dr. Stillwell presiding. After the opening service, the president made some announcements, including an invitation by the S. A. Veller Pottery Co. to visiting delegates and others to visit their plant and be conducted through it in order to visit their works of art. At this point Rev. F. G. Detweiler, Granville, Ohio, corresponding secretary, B. Y. P. U. for Ohio, took charge as departmental presiding officer. He introduced Miss Maude W. Slaght of Dayton as the new state junior leader. She responded.

The state secretary, Rev. Mr. Detweiler, of Granville, then read the annual report of the young people's department of the O. B. C. for the year closing Oct. 18, 1911. Printed copies of this report were distributed in the congregation. Certain features were emphasized by the secretary. Among these were the references to facts that the Geneva union received the banner for excellence in all round work as defined by our Ohio standard, and that certain union had reached places on the roll of honor and received honorable mention. Also, he called attention to the department of finance, stating that last year's receipts were $1,638.33; expenses $1,630.76. This year has brought in receipts from societies amounting to $1,073.24. The expense of maintaining the work has been $951.06. He urged that the organization adhere to the policy of making the needs of the local field supreme. A high tribute was paid to the work of the preceding secretaries, Rev. A. E. Read, D. D., general secretary, and Mrs. A. E. Read, junior secretary.

At the conclusion of the report Julius G. Lamson, esq., Toledo, vice president of the convention, acted as presiding officer for the remainder of the session. He introduced the Rev. W. E. Chalmers of Philadelphia, the newly elected national superintendent of the young people's work, who gave an address on the subject, "Our Young People, A Dangerous Class."

The next portion of the program was that devoted to the women's work. Mrs. F. J. Kirkpatrick of Springfield, departmental president, presided. She introduced Mrs. S. M. Fulton, of Elyria, who made a report of the women's home mission work. The apportionment had been met last year; 21 associations had been visited in the interest of the work; many letters had been written and the ten days spent at Summerland Beach had afforded opportunity for meeting workers and holding helpful study classes.

Mrs. Isabel Crawford, a long-time missionary to the Indians, spoke on her work. She has just attended the first Indian congress held in Columbus. She presented in an unusually attractive and impressive manner the spiritual condition of the American Indian.

Mrs. T. E. Adams, new secretary of women's foreign mission society, presented her report. She outlined her work, indicated some needs, and read the report of the treasurer.

FRANKLIN TOWNSHIP.

The Woman's Missionary Society of the Lutheran church met Thursday with Mrs. Nicholas Youso.

Dwight Gortemmer, a well known young farmer, was kicked by a horse last Friday, both feet striking him on the leg at the knee. While no bones were broken his leg was badly bruised and is very painful.

Owing to the continued heavy rainfall, much wheat remains to be sown, if the soil gets into condition soon.

Peter Bratton and family and Bert Wolfe and family of Newark spent Sunday at the home of Marion Bounds.

Several Odd Fellows from here attended the Odd Fellows' banquet at Newark Tuesday evening.

Homer Cooper and family spent Sunday at the home of Mr. De Phillips, near Glenford.

The roads in this section are getting in very bad condition. The heavy rains have washed all the hills badly, and the flats are muddy. Scarcely any work has been done on the roads this year, and in many places the ditches are in the middle of the road, instead of at the side. From present indications our roads will be worse even than last winter.

F. C. Osborn and family and B. A. Boring and family attended the Lancaster fair Saturday, making the trip in the latter's automobile.

Clyde Irwin and family and Milton Parr and family of Newark spent Sunday with friends here.

Services at the Lutheran church next Sunday morning and evening.

Thackeray's Kindness of Heart.

Thackeray was the gentlest satirist that ever lived. As editor of the Corn he could hardly bring himself to reject a manuscript for fear of hurting his would be contributors. The story of his actually paying for contributions that he never printed in order to conceal the fact that he had rejected them may be true or false. We do not remember exactly how the evidence points. But even if it be a story, such stories are not told of men made of the stern stuff of the Thackerays commonly unknown—London Saturday Review.

MADE FROM GRAPES

Of all the fruits that grow to give sustenance and nourishment to mankind, the grape is the most famous. A favorite subject of the poet, this healthful, luscious fruit has from the beginning of time been celebrated in song and story. Therefore it is a pleasure to know that to the grape we are indebted for some of the finest foods that go to our table, for from the grape is derived Royal Grape Cream of Tartar, the chief ingredient and active principle of the world-renowned Royal Baking Powder.

While the connection between baking powder and grapes may seem remote, it is evident to those who know that cream of tartar exists in all ripe grapes, from which it is directly produced in the following manner:

Flowing with the juice of the grape from the press, the cream of tartar gradually separates therefrom and settles upon and adheres to the sides of the casks. It is subsequently collected, boiled, and purified with water. Crystals of cream of tartar, white and very pure, are produced specially refined, and ground into an impalpable powder. This forms the Royal Grape Cream of Tartar from which Royal Baking Powder is made. The extensive employment of this pure fruit acid has aided in rendering Royal unique in the baking powder world, adding, as it does, the delicious flavor and wholesome properties which are characteristic of all food made with it.

to get Dr. Marriott to hold an autopsy on the body of William Howard, who had died about 8 o'clock, and did not know of Etherington's lynching until they came back from St. Louisville.

"The bruise wounds on the crown of the head were in a position that they could have been produced by battering the head against an iron or stone wall; don't think any of the wounds or cuts on the head would have produced death."

THURSDAY AFTERNOON.

Dr. J. G. Shirer, examined by Mr. Miller: "On July 8, 1910, in the evening, was called to perform an autopsy; found a dead body at southeast corner of square, which was taken to McGonagle's morgue."

Dr. Shirer detailed the wounds on Etherington's body, substantially the same as had been described by Drs. Marriott and Wylarch, saying that scalp was loosened from the skull, presumably from blows about the head from some blunt instrument. In his opinion death was caused by strangulation.

Cross-examined by Mr. James: "I did not hear of lynching until I returned from St. Louisville; was witness in Watha and McKinley trials; subpoenaed in Bolton case at Mt. Vernon, but was not on stand; did not have a talk with Lewis Bolton on train coming from Mt. Vernon after he had been acquitted."

"Etherington came up to my automobile near the park that afternoon, about two minutes before he shot Howard; he got on the running board of the car; I did not push him off and don't know that anyone else did; he did not ask me to take him out of town; about two minutes after-ward I saw him shoot Howard. The wounds and bruises on Etherington's head might have been made by jamming the head against a stone wall or iron wall."

Dr. B. F. Barnes, who performed the actual work at the post mortem on Etherington's body, was examined by Mr. Smythe, and his testimony was nearly identical with that given by the preceding physicians. In his opinion death was caused by strangulation.

Cross-examined by Mr. James, Dr. Barnes said that the wounds on the head could have been caused by butting the head against a stone wall or iron wall.

It was noticed that Mr. James brought out this latter point from each of the four doctors in cross-examination, which is new in the trial of these cases, and it is thought that it will be attempted to show that in his paroxysm of terror while in the jail, Etherington tried to batter out his brains against the walls or bars of his cell, which would be a strong point in favor of the defendant.

CONVENTION OF 51

Political Patronage Was One Subject of Discussion.

MANY ISSUES SAME AS NOW

The Judiciary and Corporations Came In For Their Full Share of Argument, Criticism and Defense.

BY PROF. C. B. GALBREATH, Former State Librarian.

On the day following the election of officers and while the appetite for patronage was still keen, Mr. Sawyer, an active and somewhat loquacious member from Auglaize county, rose and remarking that a public printer ought to be appointed, declared that he "had no disposition to disguise the matter and would frankly state that he presumed from the complexion of the convention that Samuel Medary would be chosen printer" and proceeded to make a motion to that effect.

The contest over the printing of the convention consumed much time, the dominant party under the leadership of Mr. Sawyer, evidently guarding very closely the interests of Mr. Medary. The price to be allowed provoked much discussion. Contracts had been made for the publication of the proceedings and debates of the convention in the Ohio Statesman and the Ohio State Journal. The ink in the cocoanut for Mr. Medary seemed to arise from the fact that he had only to lift his type out of the columns of the Statesman and run off the proceedings and debates in book form to get full pay a second time for his work. "If Mr. Medary, as is true," declared Mr. Sawyer, "has type set up for the publication of his paper and if he can tomorrow use the type for the publication in book form, it is not his fault."

The suggestion of some one that the printing be given to the lowest responsible bidder aroused the righteous indignation of Mr. Farr, a Medary supporter from Huron county. He said: "This matter of bidding for work of this kind is exceedingly contemptible, and when a man makes such a proposition to me, as a printer, I will have nothing to do with him."

The result, of course, was that satisfactory provision was made for Mr. Medary. In the limited scope of this inadequate survey, not even a brief review of the debates on the more important subjects can be given. A glance over the proceedings reveals the progressives and conservatives in battle array, and often their arguments read like a transcript from the latest issue of the Congressional Record in which similar principles are discussed. In emphasizing the judicial system of England, a prominent conservative of the convention said:

"The fame of her learned and incorruptible judges has filled the world. And why is it? They have feared no earthly power, but have been left to poise the scales of justice with a firm and steady hand. 'Let justice be done though the heavens should fall' has been the motto of her judges. They have been able to dispense justice under the influence of a conscious security against popular excitement and royal displeasure."

Continuing the same speaker said: "I believe that the people of the state of all parties desire an independent judiciary and that they regard such a system as immeasurably more important than that the will of a popular assembly in a particular locality or neighborhood, expressed on a given day under excitement, should be carried into the jury box or be delivered from the bench in the form of a solemn judicial determination."

And here is another excerpt from the reply of a progressive of that day: "I said it was much to ask our opponents even to vote for the election of judges by the people, but was too much to expect them to go the entire figure on the subject. I said that the election of judges by the people was asked for by the people for the purpose of bringing within their control more fully that department of our government, which alone of all departments of American government, had not felt the chastening and reforming hand of American public opinion."

Conservative citizens, who are sometimes disturbed at the reckless and withering anathemas hurled at corporate wealth, should console themselves with the thought that there is nothing new in this manifestation of hostility and righteous indignation. In the convention that framed our present constitution, the orators bravely assailed the citadel of "privilege" in language as trenchant as any hurled from the hustings today. Here is a sample, under date of June 3, 1850:

"Corporations, sir, are destructive to equality and hostile to free institutions, and their existence should not be tolerated in a republican government. They confer privileges and benefits on the few which are not enjoyed by the many. Every special act of incorporation is a grant of monopoly—a charter of privileges to a few individuals, which are not conferred upon the community at large. Such legislation is, consequently, utterly repugnant to the great republican doctrine of equal rights—a doctrine that lies at the basis of the free institutions of the country."

"Sir, the people of Ohio have felt the blighting, withering, and contaminating effects of these 'ulcers' upon the body politic—corporations, through a long series of years; and I believe there is now a deliberately formed and well settled public opinion among the masses in this state which requires of us as the representatives of the people to say to the general assembly, in the organic law of this commonwealth, 'No more special acts of incorporation—no more special legislation.' A distinguished American statesman has said, and experience has proven the truth of the declaration, that 'in this country corporations are like so many citadels, in which the enemies of republican government entrench and protect themselves, and from which they carry on their warfare against the institutions of freedom and the liberties of the people.'"

Of course we have applied new words and phrases. We now speak of the "tyranny of privilege," "predatory wealth" and the "tentacles of the monster octopus," but "blighting, withering, contaminating effects of these 'ulcers' upon the body politic" was doubtless a satisfactory avenue for the release of the pent up and righteous wrath of this "friend of the people."

From another delegate of the convention we get an insight into the cause of this early hostility toward corporations in Ohio and an illuminating exposition of the devious ways of legislatures sixty years ago:

"It is well known that special charters are always 'got through' our legislature at will, and it must be evident that it always will be so, in the absence of a constitutional provision. When was there ever an instance within the recollection of the oldest legislator on this floor, where a single special act of incorporation was defeated. It is but too generally known that these special acts are 'got through' by a log-rolling system as it is called, the friends of one bill voting for the bills of others in consideration of their aid when the final vote is taken upon their own. These acts will always pass a legislative body—the dignity and 'purity' of your general assembly to the contrary, notwithstanding. Any association of capitalists who ask for a right of way through any part of the country will always get it, and ten thousand remonstrances might be sent up in vain. A single member could carry it through the legislature, if each other member had a bill of his own for similar acts of incorporation."

The people who are wont continually to despair of the legislature they elect, may gather comfort from the evidence here presented that these bodies are not much worse now than in the long ago.

Of course, in 1850, as now, there were staunch defenders of existing institutions, including the chartered corporations. Among these was the delegate from Carroll county. Here is what he has to say:

"It has been said that there is no disposition among the people of the state to embark in works of internal improvement, hence there is necessity for such action by the legislature as would invite capitalists to invest their wealth among us. It is said that this is an age of progress. Well, to some extent that is true. The practice of the early pioneers of the country was to invite capital into the state by the establishment and encouragement of associations of wealthy individuals; and, sir, the state improved under that healthy system—that wise and far-sighted policy. I am unwilling to take away from the people the opportunity and privilege of having railroad or turnpike roads or any other improvements, if they find men willing to build them. If it is the purpose of this convention to prevent the people from having these improvements made, they could not, in my judgment, adopt a more effectual plan than to support the section now under consideration. I am for leaving it to the people and the legislature to settle these matters by themselves. Let the people, by their representatives, grant special charters and put upon them such balances and checks as they may think proper. This convention should not attempt to prevent the people from inviting capitalists into the state, for to discourage the investment among us of eastern capital is to strike directly at the policy which has made the state what it is—the third in wealth and greatness in the republic."

CONSTITUTIONAL DELEGATES.

Broad-gauged, educated and sensible men, unfettered by class or interests, who realize that this is the twentieth century and that there is more danger from over-government than under-government, and that as a people the vast majority of us are for the upholding and maintenance of decency, honor and honesty, and willing to acquiesce readily in all laws requiring these things, are those who should prescribe what our mode of legislation and government shall be.—Mansfield News.

Before Allowing an Operation

Please Read These Two Letters.

The following letter from Mrs. Orville Rock will prove how unwise it is for women to submit to the dangers of a surgical operation when it may be avoided by taking Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. She was four weeks in the hospital and came home suffering worse than before. Then after all that suffering Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound restored her health.

HERE IS HER OWN STATEMENT.

Paw Paw, Mich.—"Two years ago I suffered very severely with a displacement—I could not be on my feet for a long time. My physician treated me for several months without much relief, and at last sent me to Ann Arbor for an operation. I was there four weeks and came home suffering worse than before. My mother advised me to try Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, and I did. To-day I am well and strong and do all my own housework. I owe my health to Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and advise every woman who is afflicted with any female complaint to try it."—Mrs. Orville Rock, R. R. No. 5, Paw Paw, Mich.

Rockport, Ind.—"There never was a worse case of woman's ills than mine, and I cannot begin to tell you what I suffered. For over two years I was not able to do anything. I was in bed for a month and the doctor said nothing but an operation would cure me. My father suggested Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, so I purchased it, and I improved wonderfully, so I am able to travel, ride horseback, take long rides and never feel any ill effects from it. I can only ask other suffering women to give Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound a trial before submitting to an operation."—Mrs. Margaret Meredith, R. F. D. No. 3, Rockport, Ind.

We will pay a handsome reward to any person who will prove to us that these letters are not genuine and truthful—or that either of these women were paid in any way for their testimonial, or that the letters are published without their permission, or that the original letter from each did not come to us entirely unsolicited.

For 30 years Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound has been the standard remedy for female ills. No sick woman does justice to herself who will not try this famous medicine. Made exclusively from roots and herbs, and has thousands of cures to its credit.

Mrs. Pinkham invites all sick women to write her for advice. She has guided thousands to health free of charge. Address Mrs. Pinkham, Lynn, Mass.

COUNTY SUNDAY SCHOOL ITEMS

The series of September Institutes held in Brownsville, Perryton, Johnson and Pataskala were a decided success. The state workers, Mrs. Curran, Mrs. Geyer and Mr. Shinn proved unusually helpful in both platform and conference work. The county secretary feels that the plan of taking the institutes to different sections of the county, has amply justified itself in this, its first year's trial and recommends that the plan of sectional institutes be continued as a permanent policy of the association.

Plans are already being laid for the county convention next May. We hope to secure exceptionally strong talent by co-operating with four of our neighboring counties, Perry, Fairfield, Mustangum and Guernsey. The county secretary is very anxious to have a parade of the Men's Organized Bible classes in Licking county during the county convention. Let us hear from the Bible classes as to whether the plan is workable.

Our teacher training secretary reports that in the United States, only one teacher in every twelve is taking a Teacher Training course, and that Licking county is even below that standard. Now is a good time to organize a Teacher Training class in your school. We are planning to hold a commencement for the Teacher Training graduates in Licking county this year. If you are already taking a course, try to complete it in time to receive your diploma at the county convention next May. If you can't complete your course this year, begin now to work for a diploma at the 1912 convention.

CLARICE E. CARROLL,
County Secretary.

BUSINESS WAS SECOND.

In a small South Carolina town that was "finished" before the war, two men were playing checkers in the back of a store. A traveling man who was making his first trip to the town was watching the game, and not being acquainted with the business methods of the citizens, he called the attention of the owner of the store to some customers who had just entered the front door.

"Sh! Sh!" answered the storekeeper, making another move on the checker-board. "Keep perfectly quiet and they'll go out."—Everybody's Magazine.

A Styrian Peasant Superstition. A lawsuit for libel brought by an apothecary in Pollau, in Styria, against a young peasant reveals an extraordinary superstition prevalent among the country people. They believe that apothecaries and doctors have the right to kill at least one man and one woman every year in order to make medicines out of their bodies. An accidental movement of the apothecary at Pollau, Herr Kobermauser, when giving medicine to a boy named Putz led the latter to believe he was going to be killed. He ran away, but got such a fright that he fell ill. The inhabitants believed his story and boycotted the apothecary, who was at length compelled to prosecute. Putz was sentenced to fourteen days' imprisonment, but his parents, who had spread the story, were acquitted on the ground that they had acted in good faith.—London Standard.

A Missing Leaf.

That ordinary care which is taken by the Japanese in their very exact "flower arrangements" is illustrated by an incident related by Frederic S. Isham, the author. He was present at a demonstration in Kyoto of the art of placing flowers, leaves and branches together in an artistic manner. At one point a little maid apparently offended the "master" deeply. He spoke to her and ended by ordering her to retire. She did so, probably the most broken hearted girl in Kyoto, and the master proceeded to alter her work. The American, who had seen nothing wrong, ventured to ask what was the matter, whereupon he was informed that she had placed twelve leaves in a certain combination instead of thirteen. Twelve, it seems, was the right number 200 years ago, but thought, study, meditation and prayer had led to the discovery that not twelve, but thirteen, was the correct number for the artistic effect of that particular arrangement. This may seem a trifling alteration, but it suggests Michelangelo's retort, in which he pointed out the relation between trifles and perfection.

A Whack at Turtle Soup.

Turtle soup is called green just because turtle fat is "kinder that color." And believe it, whether you now do or not, turtle soup will make anybody sweat green who eats it often and much. Hogarth has a picture showing how green turtle soup and its fellow foods and drinkables in the good old golden days put London aldermen under the tables. From the viewpoint of nourishment turtle soup is not worth a tenth its costs. Sun dried turtles are found in some of the markets of the world, and many chefs say they are about as good as the fresh reptile. As for the true secret of mock turtle soup, it is only the scalp of a sucking calf, a gelatinous fraud, masquerading as a chunk of green turtle shell fat, but even so, it is better than the best genuine sea turtle soup at that.—New York Press.

Today's News Today

How the Cleveland Plain Dealer Secures the News of the Whole World

Few newspapers have equal and none have better newsgathering facilities than the Cleveland Plain Dealer. For it the whole world over vigilant watch is maintained throughout every hour of the twenty-four. The time between the occurrence of a news event and its transmission to the Plain Dealer office may frequently be measured in minutes.

THE ASSOCIATED PRESS.

Foremost among the Plain Dealer's costly services is the Associated Press. This organization of 6,000 newspapers is the most complete and extensive enterprise ever organized. No news event can evade the stupendous watchfulness of the Associated Press. The Plain Dealer receives the complete Associated Press report every day in the year.

INTERNATIONAL NEWS SERVICE.

The Plain Dealer is the only Cleveland newspaper receiving the International News Service. The chief concern of the Associated Press is necessarily events of prime national importance. Supplementing this service admirably, then, are the reports of the International News—from which the Hearst newspapers receive their telegraph news. For big human interest stories this organization is unequalled.

LEASED WIRES TO NEW YORK WORLD AND CHICAGO INTER OCEAN.

For independent, searching investigation of national news events, political and otherwise, no service can compare with that of the New York World. The inside facts usually come from the World, which knows no limit of expense and patience in reaching the bottom of an affair of national interest. Another exclusive Plain Dealer feature.

OHIO STATE NEWS.

The Plain Dealer's own organization of nearly 200 correspondents throughout the principal cities and towns of Ohio reports Ohio news quickly and accurately, with a proper sense of both local interest and significance to the public at large.

NEWS FROM WASHINGTON, COLUMBUS, NEW YORK, LONDON AND PARIS.

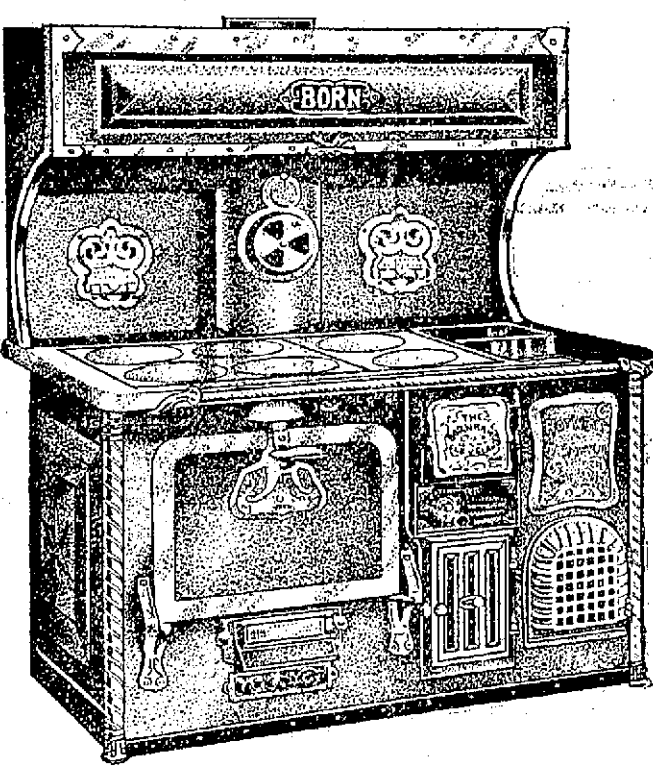

The Plain Dealer's Washington bureau, with Ben F. Allen, known to every Plain Dealer reader in charge, keeps Plain Dealer readers minutely informed as to the course of events in Washington. The New York bureau, with Carl K. Kitchen in charge, misses nothing of interest or importance in the metropolis. W. W. Reynolds has established a noteworthy reputation for the Plain Dealer's Columbus bureau during the recent legislative scandals. Fred Roeder is the Plain Dealer's staff correspondent in London, and Sterling Heilig holds the same office in Paris.

The Plain Dealer as it reaches its readers represents the result of the most careful selection and condensation of news. Upwards of 140,000 words of news are received over the telegraph wires of the Plain Dealer every night. This is sifted, condensed, edited, boiled into the 10,000 words finally printed in the Plain Dealer. Fifty thousand words are received every day by the city editor and are compressed into another 15,000 words. This is the Plain Dealer made of the final essence of the news of the world.

HEALTH HINT FOR TODAY.

Concerning Coffee.
The following conclusions are reached by a physician who made an exhaustive study of the beverage: "Coffee has anti-septic properties. A cup of coffee left in a room remains free from bacteria for over a week. The ordinary infusion is strong enough to kill the microbes of cholera and anthrax in three hours, of typhoid fever in one day and the spores of anthrax in nine days. Coffee may be used by a moderate consumer to his advantage as a beverage
when it produces none of the symptoms indicating a poisoning of the system. It should not be allowed to patients who are known to be nervous, especially women. Under no circumstances should it be allowed to children on account of their susceptible nervous systems. The therapeutic action of coffee must not be lost sight of, and when the proper indications arise its judicious use may be of great benefit.
Personally the writer can testify to its efficacy in cases of shock
and vomiting after operations,
or hemorrhage, in dram doses
without milk or sugar every fifteen minutes. For patients with hardened arteries we should prohibit the use of coffee, because experiments show that its use raises the blood pressure."

Terrible Suffering

Eczema All Over Baby's Body.
"When my baby was four months old his face broke out with eczema,
and at sixteen months of age, his face,
hands and arms were in a dreadful state. The eczema spread all over his body. We had to put a mask or cloth over his face and tie up his hands.
Finally we gave him Hood's Sarsaparilla and in a few months he was entirely cured. Today he is a healthy boy." Mrs. Inez Lewis, Bating, Maine.
Hood's Sarsaparilla cures blood diseases and builds up the system.
Get it today in its usual form of chocolated tablets called Sarsatabs.

NEWARK'S NEXT MAYOR
FRANCIS MARION SWARTZ

The Democrats of Newark have chosen as the head of their ticket
this year one of the city's best known citizens, Francis Marion Swartz, residing in the West End at No. 88
Union street, a life long resident of Licking county and for the past twenty-seven years a resident of Newark.
Mr. Swartz was born on the old homestead farm on the reservoir in Licking township, one and one-half miles south of Jackson town. He was reared a country boy and attended country school, helping his father during the vacation periods. Attaining young manhood he married and engaged in pursuits of agriculture. Six children were born to the union and desiring that they should have better educational facilities than could be obtained in the rural districts at that

FRANCIS MARION SWARTZ.

time he brought his family to Newark and engaged in the grocery business at No. 67 Union street, which he conducted successfully until the labor troubles of 1905, when one of the city's largest industries closed and remained inactive for a period of over a year.
Within a short time the big Wehrle fire occurred and this also threw many men out of employment.

Generous to a fault, Mr. Swartz carried scores of patrons on his books and extended credit to tide over the hardships of those involved in the strike upon the promise and hope that the labor troubles would soon be settled and that the resumption of work would enable his debtors to meet their obligations. Time dragged on and when the difficulties between employers and employees had been adjusted Mr.
Swartz was financially crippled. He may be blamed by some for extending credit to those who had dealt with him for years, but there were hundreds who blessed him for tiding them over a time when starvation was staring them in the face.

Undaunted by his reverses, Mr.
Swartz continued in business and the came the great Wehrle fire, and again

he showed his friendliness to labor by carrying many on his books when he could least afford to with the result that he was compelled to give up his grocery business and engage in something which did not require the need of almost unlimited capital. With this end in view he opened a feed store in August, 1909, and now enjoys a splendid trade. His friends of the West End have not forgotten him and hundreds today are telling of his good qualities, his generosity, his sterling manhood, his clean, honest and straightforward life, and they will vote for him almost as a unit to exalt him to the highest position within the gift of the people in a municipal campaign.

Francis, or Marion Swartz, as he is called by his friends, is not unacquainted with the duties devolving upon official life, having served his township as a school director and his city as a member of the Newark city council for six years, during which time he was a faithful, painstaking official, always looking to the best interests of the tax payers and supporting those measures which in his judgment would best subserve the city's interests.

Two years ago the citizens of Newark chose him as one of the land appraisers. He fulfilled the functions of that office in a manner that won him
many encomiums and his fairness and his judgment were commended by all tax payers. The city tax rate which will be partly based upon the work of the realty appraisers, has not as yet been announced, but it can be said upon the best of authority that it will not exceed one and two-tenths mills or less than one-third of what it has been in the past.

The voters of Newark will make no mistake in supporting the candidacy of Mr. Swartz. His life has been an open book. He has always lived quietly among his fellow men and he is NOT AN ELEVENTH HOUR RE-FORMER.

Last year when the Republicans of the city were better united than they are in the present campaign, the average Democratic majority in the city from the top to the bottom of the ticket was 1,019.

This year the methods used and issue raised by which Mayor Ankele was defeated for re-election by members of his party has caused many of his supporters to determine that they will not support Mr. Bigbee but will vote for Marion Swartz.

Notwithstanding this fact, however,
and the certainty of Mr. Swartz's election, his supporters will leave no work undone in the campaign to make his majority as large as possible.

DOCTORS' PRESCRIPTION FOR ECZEMA

The most advanced physicians of this country and Europe are now prescribing a wash of wintergreen thymol
and other soothing and healing ingredients for the cure of Eczema Psoriasis
and all other forms of skin trouble.
This preparation is known as the D D D Prescription.

Dr. Holmes, the well known skin specialist, writes: "I am convinced that the D D D Prescription is as much a specific for Eczema as is quinine for malaria. We have been prescribing the D D D remedy for years."

I myself vouch for the D D D
Prescription for Eczema and absolutely guarantee that it will take away
the itch the instant you apply it.

If you will call at my store I will be glad to let you have a $1.00 bottle on the guarantee that it will cost you nothing unless you find it does the work. And you decide. For that matter a trial bottle for 25 cents ought to be enough absolutely to prove the merits of the remedy.

Drop into my store, anyway and as I have seen a great many cases of skin trouble, I will give you free a pamphlet giving directions for bathing, diet,
etc., for all kinds of skin trouble.

IN POLITICS.

The candidate goes forth to tell how well he did his duty; he held his office during well his record is a beauty. He stands before a painted crowd and winds through wordy mazes, and in a raucous voice and loud he sings forth his own praises. No other man in all the earth would dare to stand before you and prate of his own sterling worth, and with his virtues bore you. If I should stand around and boast about my luscious virtues, you'd hand me what I'd need—a rod and sprinkle me with curses. You'd say: "The man who wants to claim should be a trifle modest, and this skate is a false alarm—a prophet stuffed with sawdust." The preacher doesn't tell the town how well he fills the pulpit; that sort of stuff we couldn't down—he knows we wouldn't gulp it. The doctor doesn't make the claim that he's the one physician who knows the way to carve your frame when you're in bad condition. The statesman is the only joy who has the nerve to lure us and boost himself for half

NO HEARTBURN DYSPEPSIA OR SICK STOMACH

Every family here ought to keep some Diapepsin in the house, as any one of you may have an attack of indigestion or Stomach trouble at any time, day or night.

This harmless preparation will digest anything you eat and overcome a distressed, out-of-order stomach five minutes afterwards.

If your meals don't tempt you, or what little you do eat seems to fill you, or lays like a lump of lead in your stomach, or if you have heartburn, that is a sign of Indigestion.

Ask your Pharmacist for a 50-cent case of Pape's Diapepsin, and take a little just as soon as you can. There will be no sour risings, no belching
of undigested food mixed with acid,
no stomach gas or heartburn, fullness
or heavy feeling in the stomach, Nausea, Debilitating Headaches, Dizziness or intestinal griping. This will all go, and, besides, there will be no sour food left over in the stomach to poison your breath with nauseous odors.

Pape's Diapepsin is a certain cure for out-of-order stomachs, because it prevents fermentation and takes hold of your food and digests it just the same as if your stomach wasn't there.

Relief in five minutes from all stomach misery is at your drug store,
waiting for you.

These large 50-cent cases of Pape's Diapepsin contain more than sufficient to cure any case of Dyspepsia, Indigestion or any other Stomach trouble.

B. & O. WOULD GIVE PRESS
WRECK NEWS

A laudable effort to secure prompt and accurate information about railroad accidents and furnish them immediately to the press, is now being made by the Baltimore & Ohio Railroad Company. According to the system that has just been devised, and which was put in operation the first of the week, the division reports all details of the wreck as soon as they are sent to him by the train conductor or section man, and gives as nearly as possible the causes and other essential facts pertaining to the accident. The first report under the new system was telegraphed on Wednesday, substantially as was reported in the Advocate. The account was succinct and terse, as reports necessarily are, but practically all of interest about the accident was given.

Conductor John Doyle, who was hurt about the head and shoulders, is getting along nicely and will soon be able to report for duty. Traveling Passenger Agent Frank Copper of Columbus, who sustained the fracture of two ribs, is reported to be in no danger from the effects of his hurt. All the other passengers who were injured are reported as doing finely.

DISPATCHING
B. & O. TRAINS
BY TELEPHONE

The Baltimore & Ohio railroad, which is now operating 180 miles of telephone dispatching circuits, has recently ordered of the Western Electric Company 85 additional selectors to be used on five new circuits. Two circuits, equipped with nine stations each, will be installed between Rockwood, Pa. and Johnstown, Pa., a distance of 45 miles.
One of these circuits will be used for train dispatching and the other for an intercalling message circuit.
The dispatcher of both circuits will be located at Rockwood.

A train circuit will also be run from Newark 2.5 miles, and between these two points another train circuit will be run as an open circuit,
and from there on to Benwood Junction, O. This will cover a distance of 105 miles, on which 15
selector equipments will be used.
The dispatcher for both of these circuits will be located at Newark.

The other circuit is an intercall-ing message circuit which will parallel the train wires running from Newark to Benwood Junction, a distance of 105 miles. Twenty-eight stations will be equipped on this circuit and the dispatcher will be located at Newark.

WARDEN JONES

Columbus, Oct. 19.—Warden T.
H. B. Jones of the Ohio penitentiary, during whose regime of 18 months'
duration, 18 prisoners have escaped from the pen, will be retained at the head of the prison, according to a statement today of Allen W. Thurman, president of the state board of administration. Thurman stated, after a careful investigation of the charges against Jones, it had been decided by the board that nothing had been revealed that would warrant his removal. Thurman has sent a reply to the appeal for reinstatement of Capt. Solomon Shipley, discharged head of the night watch, in which he declined to overrule Warden Jones' action.

NOTICE FROM BOARD OF REVIEW

We again call attention of property holders of the city to the fact that our Board will close its present session and adjourn Monday, October 23, 1911.
The result of our labor has been most satisfying. Great numbers of our people have voluntarily come to our office and listed personal property for taxation. The great middle class of property holders who have heretofore borne more than their just and equal share of taxation, are now convinced, or may be if they will examine the records, that the valuable real estate on the public square and elsewhere in the city is now on the tax duplicate at its true value in money as required by law, and that all the large corporations and public utilities will pay their fair proportion of the taxes.
Hence, the willingness of the people to correct their returns, and list their money in banks and building associations and their apparent desire to pay their fair share of the taxes if the rate is low and all other property is actually listed.

The Board will be in session daily (ill Monday, October 23, 1911, to accommodate those who wish to list the money and credits they own April 9, 1911. Remember if you do this, you will not be liable for penalties next year. Also, bear in mind, that this week is your last opportunity to attend to this.

Silence!

The instinct of modesty natural to every woman is often a great hindrance to the cure of womanly diseases. Women shrink from the personal questions of the local physician which seem indecent. The thought of examination is abhorrent to them, and so they endure in silence a condition of disease which surely progresses from bad to worse.

*It has been Dr. Pierce's privilege to cure a great many women who have found a refuge for modesty in his offer of FREE consultation by letter. All correspondence is held as sacredly confidential. Address Dr. R. V.

Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription restores and regulates the womanly functions, abolishes pain and builds up and puts the finishing touch of health on every weak woman who gives it a fair trial.

Argue yourself unknown—sartorially—unless you possess one of these smart and comfortable coats to be worn over frocks of mohair or serge for knockabout wear. The reverse side of the cloth is in some happily contrasting color, and this reverse, showing on collar, cuffs and sometimes in other touches, adds much snap and style to the garment. The buttons are made of tortoise shell and fasten under stitched flaps of the material.

The October Bride and Her Problems.

THE October Bride isn't bothering much about her problems. She is living in a state of beatitude, and it is rather hard-hearted to rouse her from this state and point to some of the practical problems that await her. But if it is done very gently, and she faces them while still the rose-colored clouds linger, the problems may not seem so hard as if she suddenly came upon them unawares and with all the rose-light faded.

Although in many ways, the face of the world has changed with the passing of the centuries, to most young girls, marriage is still the thing of romance and illusion it has been since time began. And the experience of waking up to its stern realities is also still theirs. But neither the disappearance of its illusions nor the discovery of its realities is a serious matter in itself. Brides in uncounted numbers have weathered this test of their love, and though there may be a little ache of the heart as they see cherished dreams depart, each bride has come through the trial without discredit, and gone forward courageously to the task of being a good wife, a good mother, and a good home-maker.

But the woman of today faces these problems from a little different standpoint than did the woman of the past. And herein lies the danger to the present-day matrimonial voyage; for the trouble is that most of the brides are unconscious of the fact that they differ in some essentials from the brides of past generations. They think that because they cherish the same ideals and the same romance in regard to marriage as did their mothers and grandmothers, that they will go forward into married life with the same spirit. But in the course of a few years, they find that they have not been built of the same stuff as their feminine ancestors, and then there is apt to be trouble.

The woman of today is not the woman of fifty or a hundred years ago. For one thing, many a bride after the novelty of married life wears off, is lonely. She is in the house by herself almost all day. Her work often is not really heavy. She finds time hanging on her hands. That she might find plenty to do is not now under discussion. She comes to the point where she is lonely. Probably she has never thought of this. It is one of the results of marriage that never entered her head. But she finds it a fact.

The woman of a hundred years ago may have faced this same problem. But the girl of today faces it from a different background. The women of the past lived more isolated lives than do the women of today. And their household duties were much more numerous. And lonely or not, they had no remedy.

But the bride of today has probably been a business girl. Her day has been crowded with work. She has been surrounded with other workers. She has known the comradeship, the enthusiasm, that come from being one of a big body of workers all interested in a common cause. She feels doubly lonely and isolated. And many a new home is broken up, and the wife goes back to business from just this cause. This is one of the problems the October bride needs to face, think out, and solve.

Again the bride of today in many cases comes to her new home without the slightest knowledge of housekeeping. From school, she went into a business office. She can keep books or manage a typewriter, but she can't cook or manage a range. Bills mount up, meals are unpalatable, the house untidy. And on this rock, many a new home is wrecked.

So the October bride needs to take into account that though her romantic ideals of marriage may be the same as her grandmother's, she herself is probably not the same kind of woman as her grandmother; and that if she wants to make her married life as happy and successful as her grandmother's, she will need to master some matters that perhaps her grandmother had already mastered before she became a bride.

Recipes for Oct. 20, 1911.

Muffins. Beat to cream two tablespoonsful of butter and two of sugar. Add two well beaten eggs, one cupful of milk, one scant quart of flour, two teaspoonfuls of baking powder and a pinch of salt; beat batter with egg whisk, and pour into hot, well greased muffin pans. Bake in quick oven.

Fluffy Corn Starch Mangle. Scald one pint of milk in a double boiler. Mix together three almost level tablespoonfuls of corn starch, three tablespoonfuls of granulated sugar and one-quarter of a teaspoonful of salt. Mix to a cream with cold milk, turn quickly into the hot milk and stir until smoothly thickened. Cover and cook for 45 minutes. Whip the whites of three eggs to a stiff, dry froth. Turn into the corn starch, stir and mix lightly for three minutes, add any desired flavoring and take from the fire. Turn into wetted molds and set aside until cold, then turn out and serve with custard sauce or cream and sugar. This dessert may be varied by adding the yolks of eggs three minutes before stirring in the beaten whites.

GOOD-BYE ECZEMA

Rub On Zu-Ke—Rub Out the Agony from All Skin Diseases.

Fifty cents for a generous box of Zu-Ke at Evans' Drug Store. Think of it; 50 cents for a remedy that in a few hours will prove to you that at last you have the real ointment that really cures.

This is the first season Zu-Ke has been advertised—but it has been curing eczema, salt rheum, pimples, itch, piles and other skin diseases among white people for 60 years. For centuries it was the eczema cure in many Indian tribes and from an old Indian medicine man the formula was obtained.

BRIDE AND GROOM ON ILLFATED TRAIN

Among those who were on the ill-fated train that was wrecked on the Central Ohio division of the Baltimore & Ohio railroad Wednesday morning were Raymond Severance of Akron, aged 30 years, who had married Willa Dilley, only daughter of J. H. Dilley, Republican candidate for mayor of Cambridge, only a few hours before the wreck. Severance sustained internal injuries and also had his back injured. Both the bride and groom crawled out of a window of the overturned sleeper in their night clothes and borrowed wearing apparel from passengers in the day coaches. They returned to the bride's home in Cambridge.

The More Important.

Betty may not be very worldly wise, but she is practical. She knows enough to take a common sense view of things sentimental as well as material. So when she listened to the proposal of the young man she is fond of she couldn't help saying what she did.

"If you reject me, Betty dear," he urged in a final appeal, "I shall never, never love another. It will be the end."

"And if I accept you," she asked, "does the same thing hold good?"—Philadelphia Times.

AN ALARM WILL CALL YOU EARLY

How nice to sleep these cold mornings and how easy it is to sleep over-time. Old Father Sol is not on the job of wakening us early now and there's just one remedy and that is—"An Alarm Clock."

The first 8-day alarm clocks ever put on the market are now shown at Haynes Bros., the jewelers, at 8 North Park Place. Let them demonstrate to you the simplicity of this 8-day wonder. It has one continuous ring and one has to get up to stop it. This clock sells at $2.75 and it is surely a marvel. The Intermittent Alarm Clock rings every fifteen seconds and is very popular. The Lark Alarm Clock gives one good ring and usually succeeds in arousing the sound sleeper. Then don't fail to look at the splendid line of gilt clocks, Mission clocks, etc.; the new traveling watch clock that folds up the size of a man's cigar case and can be carried in your pocket or hand satchel. Any of these clocks would make fine Christmas presents. A popular anniversary gift is the Century Clock which rings out on the anniversary day does not run down until the next anniversary. Haynes Bros. carry one of the most varied and complete line of clocks to be found anywhere. 17-19-21

LEARN TO LIVE.

It is not good for a man to devote himself wholly to preparation for dying. It is preparation for living that we need.—Phillips Brooks.

WIFE TOO UGLY SO HE DROVE HER OUT

Cashington, O., Oct. 19.—His wife's homely face was more than William Dickerson of Willow Brook, cousin of Ben Dickerson of Hughes murder fame, could stand, and he drove her from home, according to a complaint filed in Justice Wimmer's court here by James Hoffman and Robert Engash, neighbors. Miss Dickerson is now living at her father's home, but is willing to return to her husband if he will allow her. Her aged father is distressed by the affair. There is also considerable feeling in the neighborhood the complainants claimed.

Daddy's Bedtime Story

The Ivy That Lived Upon The Oak Tree

JACK had been boasting of his swimming. "I can swim ever so far, daddy. I can beat Evelyn all hollow. I can beat that Jones girl too. I can beat Frankie Green. I can swim better than any of the boys at the beach."

"Well, I can run faster than you can, so there!" was Evelyn's retort. Daddy was ready with a story, so he began:

"How I pity you," the Ivy once said to the Sunflower. "Though you try so hard to stretch up to the sky, you never get more than a few feet from the ground. It must be very disappointing."

"But the Sunflower made no reply, only turned her little golden face up to the sun and swayed gently on her long stalk."

"I could not live such a life," the Ivy went on. "I must climb, climb, until I can overlook everything but this oak to which I cling. It is the tallest tree in the forest."

"The cloud which had spread over the sun grew larger and darker and the little breezes that had at first stirred the leaves were followed by stronger and rougher ones until the forest trees rocked and swayed in the wind. Soon a terrible storm broke over the country. The lightning dashed, the thunder boomed and rolled and the wind tore and tossed the trees until they leaned far over in an agony of pain and fear."

"The old oak, the tallest tree in the forest, bent and moaned, while its boughs lashed the air like so many helpless fingers, grasping for support. At last there came one wind stronger than all that had gone before, and the tree, with a mighty groan, went toppling over."

"When the storm had passed and the sun came out again, the oak lay stretched out with the ivy crushed beneath it."

"Alas," sighed the Ivy as it saw the little Sunflower lift its head cheerily to the sun. "To climb too high is to put oneself in the way of danger. Would that I had been content to creep along the ground like my humble cousin, the ground Ivy. Then I might have been safe and happy now."

"The little Sunflower said, 'Why do you not now loose your hold on the oak tree and learn to grow like the lowly ground Ivy that you envy?'"

"Alas," sighed the Ivy. "I wish that I could. I am so crushed and torn by the fall that even had my roots not been dragged from the ground I could never have changed the habits of a lifetime and learned to creep about as does the ground Ivy, taking my morning drink of dew with the grass and going to sleep with the crickets and the grasshoppers instead of with the birds."

Some Welsh Words.

Welsh is a marvelously expressive language. In a souvenir guide to Carnarvon there is a list of Welsh railway stations with their English equivalents. Here are some of them: Aber-gwynn, entrance to the place of bliss; Amwlch, a place of frequent expansion; Cefn Brynch, the back of the screaming hill; Dolwain, the voice of God, and Llambster, the manure yard road. There is also one station the name of which runs to fifty-eight letters. Its meaning is merely, "The fair church at the pool of the white seagull near the alder grove where the fodder for the oxen is stored in the red barn." And surely testamentary ought to flourish in a country where beer is known as "cwrrw."—Pall Mall Gazette.

A Glimpse of Dr. Johnson.

From Boswell's "Life of Johnson": "In one of Dr. Johnson's manuscript diaries there is the following entry, which marks his curious minute attention: 'July 26, 1768—I shaved my nail by accident in whetting the knife about an eighth of an inch from the bottom and about a fourth from the top. This I measure that I may know the growth of nails.' And 'Aug. 15, 1763, I cut from the vine forty-one leaves which weighed five ounces and a half and eight scruples. I lay them upon my bookcase, to see what weight they will lose by drying.'"

The Lion Didn't Roar.

It is related that Pinnow, the faithful servant and personal valet of Prince Bismarck, once trod on his master's gouty foot. Instead of swearing at him or even declaring he was a clumsy fool, Bismarck, noting that Pinnow himself was frightened, said: "Consider yourself honored. No other person, my dear Pinnow, not even the Kaiser himself, would have been suffered to tread on my corns."

Better Politics.

Something can be done by good laws, more can be done by honest administration of the laws, but most of all can be done by frowning resolutely on the preachers of vague discontent. In our political and social life alike, in order permanently to succeed, we must base our conduct on the Decalogue and the Golden Rule. Quick remedies of the universal cure-all type are generally as noxious to the body politic as to the body corporal. We must do our duty by the state. We must frown down dishonesty and corruption and war for honor and righteousness.—Theodore Roosevelt.

His Vulgarity.

Mrs. Finefinger—Are you taking your husband abroad this year? Mrs. Bon-ton—No. I decided last year when he insisted upon speaking of the Venetian gondolas as cannibals that the real charm of Europe is lost upon him.—St. Louis Post-Dispatch.

AMUSEMENTS

Last Night's Play.

James Forbe's "The Chorus Lady," and Rose Stahl's old starring piece, was seen at the Auditorium theatre last night by but a very few people and they were unappreciative because they were comparing, and as it has been said "comparisons are odious," the company presenting the play suffered because the audience would not give them the appreciation due their efforts.

In the role of Patricia O'Brien originated and made famous by Rose Stahl, Miss Edith Wall worked hard to carry her small audience with her, but they refused to permit themselves to even justly judge her. Miss Wall is a clever young actress and her delineation of the character was exceedingly good, and the farther the trend of the play advanced the more capably did she fill the role. Her work at the close of the third act was fully up to that of Miss Stahl.

Miss Edna Fenton as Nora O'Brien probably gave the most colorless bit of acting of the whole cast. Not even an inflection marked the monotony of her almost squeaky delivery of the lines. The remainder of the company was well balanced. The cast presenting the play this year has been slightly reduced in number and not a member of the original company is playing this year.

What the Press Agent Says

The Orpheum.
Boutin and Tillson in their original novelty, "A Yard of Music," will be a big feature on the bill which opens at the Arcade theatre this afternoon. From the larger cities where they have played nothing but the best of reports have been received by Manager Bassett. The novelties which they introduce will keep you laughing from start to finish.

"The Taming of Eleanor" is a happy farce in which Ewers and Prince shine. The sketch is made up of spirited and witty dialogue, with plenty of good clean comedy throughout and admirably handled by two capable people.

Mathew West and Nella Alquist present an eccentric dancing, singing and talking act, which is strictly up to the minute. Their harp selections have always proved very pleasing, their comedy is original and clean, while their singing and dancing is filled with that dash and enthusiasm which is so well liked by theatre-goers.

Francis and Lewis have an up-to-date athletic act interspersed with comedy. Their strong novelties are very remarkable, some of the weights they lift and the positions they strike while lifting them seem almost impossible.

The Orpheumscope has a new film.

The Bohemian Girl.

The crowning effort of Milton and Sargent Aborn's career as producers of grand opera in English will be seen at the Auditorium theatre Saturday, Oct. 21, matinee and night. The big spectacular production of Balfe's masterpiece, "The Bohemian Girl," which promises to be a most unique attraction. In addition to a musical ensemble of grand opera strength and effectiveness, engaging upwards of 150 people, Messrs. Aborn provide a scenic investiture of unusual magnitude, the incidental scenes of which employ a cavalcade of trained horses and a band of wonderful acrobats, etc. These features are skillfully introduced without interfering with the melodically rendering of this grand old opera. "The Bohemian Girl," written nearly seventy years ago, before the days of ragtime and other "popular" music, reveals to us some of the best treasures of our stage, treasures as precious as the lost arts of the Egyptians. Its famous old melodies, "The Heart Bowed Down," "Then You'll Remember Me," and "I Dreamt I Dwell in Marble Halls," are melodies which can never grow old. All of Balfe's delightful music will be rendered by an exceptional cast of grand opera soloists, well known on the operatic stage of Europe and America.

Himmelsheim's Associate Players.
In presenting the Associate Play, with Miss Bessie Dainty in an elaborate production of that powerful play, "In the Bishop's Carriage," which will be the bill for Monday night at the Auditorium, theatre-goers are anticipating with a remarkable show of interest the forthcoming engagement of this play, which is one of the many royalty plays that Mr. Himmelsheim will present during the coming week at popular prices. All the box office records have been broken by this company wherever they have presented this great moral play, "In the Bishop's Carriage," and from all appearances the company will have the pleasure of playing to one, if not the largest house of the season. At the Monday matinee the company will play "The Rose of Killarney," using special scenery and carrying a vast amount of properties. In fact the stage settings for both plays on Monday are very elaborate.

BIG MUSICAL EVENT.

The Harmonic Club of Cleveland is preparing one of the most extensive programs in its history. Two oratorios, "The Messiah" and "Elijah," and a miscellaneous program, in which one, or probably two, distinguished Metropolitan Opera Company soloists will take part in the programs which will be given at the Hippodrome.

The oratorios will be given Sunday afternoons, "The Messiah" on Dec. 17 and "Elijah" on Feb. 19. The last concert will be held on a week night in May, and its date will be announced just as soon as the Metropolitan soloists are engaged.

Lifts Texas Into First Place on Agricultural Map of the Country.

The valuation of farm lands and buildings in 1900 was $691,774,000.00, and in 1910 amounted to $1,822,712,000.00. With the application of the principles of scientific agriculture, the marvelous increase in wealth indicated above is but the beginning of a period of development that makes Texas pre-eminent as an agricultural section.

Many people regard Texas as an empire of vast ranges, unfenced, roamed over by live stock, cow-boys in picturesque garb of the Wild West, and great was their surprise when the government's statement was recently published, placing Texas in the lead of any agricultural state in our union—in the value and production of corn, wheat, oats, barley, rye, buckwheat, flaxseed, rice, potatoes, hay, tobacco and cotton.

The census figures form the greatest argument proving our combination of soil, water, climate, railroads and markets are unsurpassed.

The spread of irrigation is opening up great tracts that have been silent for centuries.

It is foremost because it is richest in all these elements that go to obtain results that make the Nation wonder.

$10 cash and $10 per month for 49 months without interest or taxes will buy you a ten acre farm and we can show you dozens of northern neighbor farmers who are making net per year $2,000 on ten acres. You can go on your farm after first payment.

Car will be here for a few days more—open every day and evening. Why delay, act now.

OBITUARY OF DR. G. W. DOLLISON.

Dr. G. W. Dollison, father of Mrs. W. H. Hickman, wife of Elder W. H. Hickman of West Locust street, died recently at his home in Logan, Ohio. Mr. Dollison was well known in Newark having been called here in consultation in many cases. The following obituary was taken from the Democratic Sentinel at Logan:

Dr. G. W. Dollison, died at his home in West Main street, death resulting from pneumonia. He was aged 82 years and had been a life long and prominent citizen of Logan, coming to this city 40 years ago. He was an active practitioner and a man of strong mentality and of progressive ability. He was a moral man and a good citizen, always prominent on the side of morality as against evil. His religious belief and association was with the Old School Baptist church. He was a great Bible student and a thorough scholar in Biblical history.

In political faith Dr. Dollison was a Prohibition-Democrat and very pronounced in his views. For thirteen years he was part owner of the Ohio Democrat newspaper, and for the last five years a stockholder and director in the Democrat-Sentinel Printing company, and vice president of this newspaper company at the time of his death.

Of late years the doctor turned his attention to the drug business, and assisted by his family, organized the Dollison Drug Co., of which he was president.

Dr. Dollison was a native of Pennsylvania. Born in Waynesburg, February 14, 1829. His parents were James and Mahala Dollison and he was the eighth child in a family of fourteen and has outlived them all. He is the last of his family.

In childhood he came to Ohio with his parents and settled on a farm near Roseville, where he lived until he reached his majority. He was given a good common school education and at the age of twenty began teaching school, and taught continuously for five years. During this time he studied medicine and later graduated at the Eclectic Medical Institute of Cincinnati, and also graduated from the Starling Medical College at Columbus, Ohio, under the professorship of Dr. Starling Loving, who is yet a practitioner in that city at the age of 82 years. Dr. Dollison also took a post graduate course in the New York Medical college from which he received a diploma.

His early practice of medicine was at Roseboro in this county, but in 1872 moved to Logan and has enjoyed a wide practice here ever since.

Dr. Dollison was a soldier of the late rebellion, and enlisted in Co. C, 67 O. V. I. in 1861, going out as a private. After one year service he was promoted to the rank of assistant surgeon and served in that capacity for three years and until the close of the war.

In 1862 he was married to Jane Barker, daughter of John Barker of near New Lexington, Perry county, Ohio. To this union were born seven children. Francis Marion, who died in infancy, Lou Ellen, who married Uriah Brown of Logan and died twenty-six years ago, Emma Dollison, now the wife of Elder W. H. Hickman, of Newark, Jennie Dollison, now Mrs. W. H. Roush of Palmetto, Martha Dollison, now Mrs. L. Argmont of Logan, James Dollison of Ferguson and Bruce Dollison of Logan.

In 1877 Dr. Dollison's wife and the mother of his children, died and subsequently he was married to Miss Maggie Kull of Marion township, in this county, who with their daughter, Elizabeth, survive him.

BELIEVE SLAV IS RESPONSIBLE FOR MURDERS

KANSAS TOWN SAID TO HOLD FOREIGNER WHO IS GUILTY OF CRIME

In Three States—Slav Community Is Terrorized by Fear of Ex-Convict Said To Be At Large.

Ellsworth, Kan., Oct. 19.—That Charles Marzyk, an ex-convict, who is sought by the authorities in connection with the murder of the five members of the William Showman family here Sunday night, had been in Colorado Springs, where the six members of the Wayne and Burnham families were slain, and was acquainted in Monmouth, Ill., where three persons were murdered recently, was the startling statement made to the authorities yesterday by Mrs. Minnie Vopat, Marzyk's divorced wife. All these 14 victims were killed with an axe.

Samuel Showman, brother of William Showman, head of the murdered family, has started at the head of a posse to search the county here. Marzyk is believed to be hidden in the neighborhood. If he is found a battle is expected.

Marzyk not long ago served a term for stealing grain from James Vopat. Tuesday night Vopat, who is the husband of Marzyk's former wife, saw the ex-convict in a field near his house.

Family Terror-Stricken.
Vopat and his family, terror-stricken, locked their house and fled to the home of a Slav fellow countryman five miles distant.

All the members of the Slav community who had any connection with the conviction of Marzyk went armed yesterday, for he is reported to have sworn vengeance on those responsible for his imprisonment.

Tra Lloyd, the attorney who defended Marzyk in the wheat stealing case, said yesterday:

"I believe Marzyk will remain in the neighborhood until he completes his vengeance. After his sentence, he told me that when he was released he would come back and kill the people who were responsible for his conviction and also their children. I will put them all in hell," he said.

Evidence furnished by Mr. and Mrs. William Showman is said to have been largely responsible for Marzyk's conviction.

More Fear His Vengeance.
Nine persons remain here who fear his vengeance. These persons, all of the Slav's own race, are: James Vopat, Mrs. Minnie Vopat, who obtained a divorce from Marzyk immediately after his sentence and married Vopat; the Showmans, father of the murdered Mrs. Showman, who testified against Marzyk; Mrs. John Katke and the three Katke children, Emilie, aged 17, Annie, aged 15, and Mary, aged 10.

As to a possible connection between the Ellsworth and other tragedies, Mrs. Vopat said her former husband was convicted of forgery in Colorado Springs a few months ago. She said it was not improbable that he had been in Monmouth lately. The same insane cruelty on the part of the slayer is evident in the Burnham and Wayne tragedies at Colorado Springs, in the murders of William E. Dawson, his wife and daughter, in Monmouth, and in the killing of the Showmans.

Marzyk served in the Philippine war and, after his return to this country, deserted from the army. He had been in trouble since for forging checks and stealing. Until he went to the penitentiary he was a constant fugitive.

AN ATTEMPTED REVENGE

By SARAH BOYD VAUGHAN

During the period of Venetian supremacy when the court of the doge was one of the most splendid and delightful in the world a young patrician, Leonardo di Guida, while riding in his gondola on the Grand Canal passed a woman who at once attracted his attention. She was one of those statuesque beauties with lustrous eyes, a wealth of black hair, full round cheeks and lips. Instead of lowering her eyes as Di Guida passed she brought them to bear boldly upon him.

Di Guida instructed his gondolier to turn about and follow the lady. She disembarked on the steps of a house near the rialto. Di Guida shot by as she was stepping from her gondola. She turned and gave him another look. The young man learned that this charming creature was Senorita Lucia Aboti, recently arrived from Florence. He, being one of the prominent young men at the doge's court, had no trouble in securing an introduction to her, and his visits at once became frequent.

Leonardo was at the time betrothed to Bianca Vincenza, the daughter of a Venetian noble, a girl just the reverse from Lucia Aboti—a pure, religious woman, beloved and respected by all who knew her. For awhile Leonardo was like a shuttlecock between the two influences, though neither woman knew of the other's existence. One night after a visit to Lucia he went home with his brain in a whirl. He struggled with himself till morning, when he swore before a crucifix that he would never visit her again.

Lucia, expecting him the next evening, had all arranged to make him her slave. When the usual hour for his coming arrived and he did not appear she was troubled.

Leonardo hastened his marriage with Bianca, and after the wedding they were both exquisitely happy. Leonardo did not happen to meet his other love for some time after his marriage. Then it was at a dinner. After taking his seat he looked up and saw Lucia Aboti sitting opposite him, looking at him. He expected to see some indication of resentment. He was appreciably disappointed. She gently chided him for not having invited her to his wedding and asked him to tell her all about his wife, who sat at another part of the table, manifesting throughout marked friendliness.

There was no danger in all this to Leonardo. "Once he had conquered himself he remained conquered. He loved his wife, and loved her alone. But he was deceived in the woman's professed good will, and when Lucia begged him to bring his wife and child with her the next evening he consented. He did not relish the enmity of any woman, especially on his wife's account. Those were times when death lurked anywhere, everywhere, and if this woman were really friendly he desired to fix her friendship, not to excite her enmity.

He made a confidant of his wife, telling her all that had passed between him and Senorita Aboti, urging Bianca to accept the invitation and thus avert an enmity. Bianca yielded reluctantly.

The bride and groom were received with the same marks of friendship that Leonardo had received at her former meeting with the woman he had jilted. Her expressions of cordiality for his wife were especially warm. She kissed Bianca, but Leonardo saw or thought he saw a faint shiver pass over his wife. When the three went into dinner Senorita Aboti placed the bride on her right and the groom on her left and seemed anxious to do everything in her power to convince Leonardo that she regarded the past affair between them obliterated.

The last course of the dinner was nuts and sweets. The hostess sat cracking and eating nuts, chatting glibly till in an almond she found a double kernel. Tossing one to Leonardo, she asked him to eat it, while she ate the other. He was about to put it in his mouth when he saw his wife looking at him in terror. He paused. "Why do you not eat it?" asked Lucia. "You don't mean to tell me that you fear to eat anything in my house?"

There was a change of manner and tone in speaking the words which seemed to indicate an intention to dominate Leonardo to obedience by force of will. He held the kernel in his finger, undecided.

"Well, then, give it to me. I'll eat it myself."

"Let me have it," said Bianca under her breath.

Leonardo reached across the table. Lucia playfully tried to seize it, but Bianca got it. Lucia turned a ghastly white.

"Come," said Bianca: "it is time for us to go."

The hostess made no attempt to resume her former manner. On her face was a look of defeat, almost a doomed expression. With silent bows the guests descended the steps to their gondola.

The next morning, when Leonardo passed the palace where he had dined the night before, he saw that it was closed. At dawn Senorita Aboti had departed for Florence.

It was not for several days that Leonardo received a report from a chemist with whom he had left the almond kernel his hostess had invited him to eat. The report was: "A new and deadly poison, probably brought from southern Italy."

REPORT OF OHIO BREWERS ASSOCIATION

Shows Increase in Beer Production Since Counties Voted Dry Under the Rose Law.

Chicago, Ill., Oct. 19.—Yesterday afternoon President Born, of Columbus, O., made his report as president of the Ohio Brewers' Association to the annual convention which was held here.

In Ohio, according to President Born, sixty-two of the eighty-eight counties were voted dry under the Rose law. His statistical facts showed that there was a greater production of fermented liquors last year than there was before two-thirds of the counties voted dry.

For the fiscal year ending June 30, 1908, the last year before the Rose law went into effect, the state produced 4,401,313 barrels. This year, ending July 30, the production increased to 4,566,663 barrels.

The association voted renewed support to their vigilance bureau, which is engaged in the work of cleaning up "dives" and low saloons in their state, and is accomplishing a work of real temperance through practical means.

Secretary Wm. F. Hess of Cincinnati, told the convention that the Anti-Saloon League is resorting to a campaign of misinformation in order to defeat constitutional license in Ohio.

The state constitutional convention meets in Columbus in January. The law calling for the convention suggests that the question be submitted to the people, "license or no license," so that a fair test of strength may be taken, and that, by voting on the license issue apart, the main body of the constitution will not be endangered.

Mr. Hess said that the Anti-Saloon League, fearing that license regulation would so effectively solve the saloon question that they would lose their jobs, are fighting for the submission of a composite question—license, taxation or constitutional prohibition. Mr. Hess declared that the Anti-Saloon League leaders want neither of these (least of all state prohibition) but that they want the question submitted in this manner so that supporters of license regulation will be divided, and all the propositions will be defeated.

About 35 Ohio brewing concerns were represented at this, their seventeenth convention.

In referring to the coming county option elections in Ohio, Mr. Hess said: "indications are rife that in a large number of counties which voted three years ago preparations are under way for a reversal of the verdict then rendered. The wisdom of such action in some cases is doubtful, but the deplorable conditions brought about by the so called dry regime have caused ready signers to petitions calling for an election."

Ohio counties in which dates have been set are: Scioto and Lawrence, Oct. 26; Athens, Oct. 28; Wyandot, October 31; Marion, November 1; Pickaway, November 2; Columbiana, November 3. The dates have not been set in Ashtabula, Warren, Pike, Meigs or Perry counties.

Edward Kibler and Carl Norpell were in Hebron today on legal business.

POSTMASTER SUICIDES AT ZANESVILLE

Found Postal Inspector Going Over His Books Last Night and He Cut His Throat.

Zanesville, Oct. 19.—Realizing that the visit of the postoffice inspector meant certain discovery of his peculations, Benjamin Dugan, for 12 years postmaster at South Zanesville and a leading Republican politician here, ended his life. His body was found with the throat cut, in an unoccupied building back of the postoffice. Dugan had recently been sued for divorce, and, facing the heavy strain of combined domestic troubles and consciousness of official wrong-doing, he was completely unreturned yesterday evening when he returned to the postoffice and found Inspector Oldfield going over the books. This was at 7:30 o'clock. He left then, never coming back, and his body was discovered today.

Oldfield claimed he had found a shortage of $1200 in his accounts, which he reported to the authorities at Washington. He will remain in Zanesville until a settlement is made.

The Good Time Coming. Hop Sing is a Chinese laundryman with a cheerful though somewhat unusual philosophy. After bewailing the hard times and lack of business he added smilingly, "Timely everybody be rich, velly rich, bimochy." "How's that?" "Alla poor people got no money; no can eat. Then alla poor people die."—Argonaut.

Carried to Extremes. "She is simply mad on the subject of germs and sterilizes or filters everything in the house." "How does she get along with her family?" "Oh, even her relations are strained."—Stray Stories.

WRIGHT PLEASED WITH HIS GLIDER

Manatee, N. C., Oct. 19.—Orville Wright twice broke the world's record yesterday, remaining aloft on each occasion for one minute and 15 seconds. On the last of his five flights into the teeth of a thirty-five-mile wind he fell 11 feet, but was unhurt. The machine was smashed.

Mr. Wright, despite the damage to the machine was delighted. He felt that the experiments demonstrated his ability to remain in the air without the aid of a motor just as soon as certain alterations are made in the construction of the supporting agency.

The final night was spectacular. Wright lost control of the aeroplane with the result that the tail completely wrecked both wings on the right side. When the machine struck the ground it turned turtle and the aviator was hurled a considerable distance.

In the second flight the glider for the first time since trials began stood horizontal and stationary for five seconds at an elevation of 60 feet. Finally it moved forward and downward and came to the ground, 200 feet to the north. This was the best flight of the day.

RODGERS AT DALLAS. Dallas, Texas, Oct. 19.—C. P. Rodgers, sea-to-sea aviator, landed in the Texas State Fair Grounds here at 12:52 p. m. yesterday, after having traveled from Ft. Worth, 32 miles distant, at a rate of a mile a minute. He remained here until noon today and gave an exhibition flight before heading south-west to San Antonio.

Averts Awful Tragedy. Timely advice given Mrs. C. Wiloughby of Marengo, Wis. (R.No. 1), prevented a dreadful tragedy and saved two lives. Doctors had said her frightful cough was a "consumption" cough and could do little to help her. After many remedies failed, her aunt urged her to take Dr. King's New Discovery. "I have been using it for some time," she wrote, "and the awful cough has almost gone. It also saved my little boy when taken with a severe bronchial trouble." This matchless medicine has no equal for throat and lung troubles. Price 50c. and $1. Trial bottle free. Guaranteed by F. D. Hall.
